Wall. Gunderman has already been found guilty of second degree murder.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Heavy snow of this morning didn't seem to be any deterrent to bicycle riders. Pa Newc noted a number plodding along through the deep snow on some of the side streets, this morning.

About a year ago, the great flood of 1936 was experienced. Pittsburgh had the highest water in its experience.

Dear Pa Newc:

The sight of wild geese in the heavens is pleasing to the eye at anytime. Trevor Williams of Arlington avenue, reports that Saturday night at 10:30 at Cascade Park lake, he watched a flock of wild geese flying into the east. Mr. Williams in his observing interest in wild life, while browsing about Sunday saw a pair of finches, five robins and a hairy woodpecker in the snow covered woods. Spring is slowly tip-toeing upon us and soon we will be in the season of growing and living things. We will have bright color with birds on the wing. Sunday afternoon I saw advanced signs of the new season. I watched a big brown caterpillar exploring along the long wands of the for-

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

DETROIT, March 15.—Circuit Court Judge Allan Campbell today issued a temporary injunction ordering all of the sit-down strikers to leave the plants of the Chrysler Corporation.

The order was granted at the request of the Chrysler Corporation. Arguments on the petition were heard by Judge Campbell on Saturday and he announced his decision this morning.

Judge Campbell, in giving his ruling, said:

"The issue of the case at bar is not between this plaintiff and these defendants.

"Respect for the courts and for law and order has been menaced.

Governor Murphy Seeks Plan To Halt Sit-Downs

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

DETROIT, March 15.—Governor Frank Murphy set the wheels in motion today to bring order out of chaos developing in Detroit as a result of the wave of "sit-down" strikes.

While the governor was proceeding with his plans, which include the holding of a round-table conference on Wednesday of his "peace" committee of twenty men and women representing industry, labor unions and the public, the strikes in the Chrysler and Hudson automobile plants seemed as far from settlement as ever.

The strikers continued to hold complete possession of Chrysler's eight plants and the company was engaged in court action designed to evict them. Today Circuit Court Judge Allan Campbell was to announce his decision on the petition of the corporation for an injunction requiring the strikers to evacuate the factories.

To Discuss Situation

Governor Murphy planned to confer today in his office at Lansing with Attorney General Raymond Starr, Colonel Samuel Pepper, judge advocate of the Michigan National Guard and the prosecutors of Wayne, Genesee, Oakland and Ingham counties to map out plans for the calling together of representatives of all law enforcement bodies in the state.

The purpose of this conference will be to discuss the legal situation

Roosevelt On Auto Tour Of Georgia Farm

(International News Service)

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., March 15.—After three days of complete seclusion in his "Little White House" here, President Roosevelt today arranged a motor tour of the immediate Georgia countryside that will take him to the Pine Mountain Valley resettlement project, the CCC camp near Chipley and his own 2,800 acre farm.

When Mr. Roosevelt was in Warm Springs in November 1935, he visited the Georgia resettlement project, then still in process of completion and occupation. Today more than a hundred little farms of 25 to 60 acres are providing a living for rehabilitated families.

It was at the Pine Mountain Valley project on that last visit that the president, speaking informally, announced the federal government would invest no more money in such projects but urged the states to copy them.

Court Hearings Suspended Today

Senate Committee To Resume Public Hearings On Issue On Tuesday

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Congressional activity on President Roosevelt's proposal to inject "new blood" into the supreme court struck a temporary hiatus today as opposing leaders worked behind the scenes to strengthen their battle lines.

Both sides issued conflicting reports of increasing public support of their causes. Both lines in the senate however, appeared to be holding firmly, with the outcome still resting with a bloc of 30 senators who have not yet committed themselves publicly. While many of them have declared their positions privately, the public committals remained at 37 against the plan and 29 in favor of it.

The Senate Judiciary committee's public hearings were suspended until tomorrow because neither side was ready to present witnesses today. The administration will resume presentation of its case tomorrow while 14 deans and professors from university law schools will be heard during the remainder of the week.

Loyalists Claim Rebels Are Being Driven Back

By THOMAS A. LOAYZA
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MADRID, March 15.—Behind a deadly curtain of bombs and machine gun fire from scores of swift airplanes, Loyalist armies today followed through on their smashing week end victories beyond Guadalajara with the capture of Valdearenas.

Forestalling a possible repetition of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's regular tactics of striking at another front as soon as the Loyalists have rushed reinforcements to one battleground, the Loyalists at the same time opened a fresh offensive in the Jarama river sector, southeast of Madrid.

Driving Insurgents Back

"We are steadily driving back the insurgents along the Jarama front, through a valley strewn with corpses and carcases of horses and discarded rifles," the government stated. This reported advance ends for the time being the Rebel threat to cut the Valencia highway from the south.

On the eve of the ninth month of the conflict, while Loyalists joyously celebrated the Rebels' setback, a wordy battle continued between the two sides, designed to sway foreign opinion.

Denying that the Loyalists had taken Trijueque, southwest of Valdearents, the insurgents said "our troops continue their victorious march towards Guadalajara.

Claim Russians Fight

In reply to Loyalist charges that from 30,000 to 50,000 Italian soldiers were fighting with the Rebels before Guadalajara, an insurgent communique at Salamanca said:

"It must not be forgotten that there are foreign formations with the reds. Czechoslovakian and Russian prisoners prove our statements."

Ten battalions of the International Brigade bore the brunt of the Loyalist defense beyond Guadalajara, Salamanca said.

"News of the fall of Trijueque is entirely false," the communique stressed. "From Algora to Trijueque the Loyalist forces retreated 20 miles; yet they still claim victories.

"All red counter-attacks were repulsed with heavy losses to the enemy."

Erie Man Is Shot To Death

Charge Housekeeper With Firing Fatal Shots—John E. Hogan Victim

ATTEMPT ALSO MADE TO SHOOT VISITOR

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., March 15.—A housekeeper, unexpectedly arriving home after three weeks away to find her employer with another woman, fatally shot him today and then unsuccessfully attempted to kill the woman, according to police here.

Dead was John E. Hogan, 42, congressional district organizer for the Townsend plan, held for first degree murder was his housekeeper, Mrs. Elizabeth Sample, 45.

As reconstructed by police, Hogan and his guest, Mrs. Lucille F. Irwin, 42-year-old divorcee, had just concluded a champagne dinner at his home when Mrs. Sample arrived from a visit to Cleveland.

When Hogan ordered his housekeeper out of the house when she attempted to evict his guest, Mrs. Sample took a revolver from her suitcase, fired two shots in the bathroom, and then came out and shot at Hogan twice, once in the chest.

As Hogan fell, he related to police on his deathbed, he deflected another shot intended for Mrs. Irwin.

TO TAKE UP STEEL AGREEMENT

Conference At Pittsburgh, Pa.

Carnegie-Illinois And C. I. O. Representatives Gather For Discussion

PAY RAISES ARE EFFECTIVE TUESDAY

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, March 15.—In an atmosphere of mutual good-will, representatives of Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation and the committee for industrial organization were to meet today to put the finishing touches to the history-making working agreement signed earlier between the two groups.

Hailing the meeting as the culmination of almost a half century of effort to unionize the steel industry, CIO leaders hoped to bring out of the conference a model agreement for negotiations with other steel companies.

Expect Model Agreement

"Out of the conference is expected to come a model agreement which will be used as a basis for negotiations with the rest of the steel industry, including the other subsidiaries of the United States Steel Corporation," prophesized officials of the steel workers organizing committee.

Representing the giant steel corporation, the largest single producer of steel in the world, will be Benjamin F. Fairless, president of Carnegie-Illinois, who two weeks ago recognized the SWOC as the bargaining agent for its members in the company. Representing the CIO affiliate will be a subcommittee headed by Philip Murray, John L. Lewis' chief aide.

Pay Rates Raised

Meanwhile, as the conferees of the two groups prepared to meet, almost a half million workers in the nation's steel industry stood ready tomorrow to benefit from general wage increases announced during the past two weeks. It will mean for them the highest pay rates in the history of the steel industry, with the average steel workers receiving approximately 83 cents an hour and common labor 62½ cents an hour for an eight-hour day.

GOVERNOR MURPHY SEEKS PLANS TO HALT SIT-DOWNS

brought about by the epidemic of strikes and the legal rights of all parties concerned.

Governor Murphy intends to present to the committee of twenty, meeting Wednesday at the Hotel Statler in Detroit, a plan to establish arbitration boards in the four counties named, with the boards empowered to handle strikes and other troubles.

He hopes to work out some plan whereby "sit-down" strikes which in the past three months have caused loss of employment to more than 250,000 persons in this state may be averted. It is believed the governor will also endeavor to have the legislature enact laws that will give the arbitration boards an official status.

Settle Store Strike

Governor Murphy was largely instrumental for bringing about of a settlement over the week-end of the strike in the Crowley-Milner department store, the second largest in the city. The store was to reopen today, with evacuation by the strikers a part of the agreement.

Conferences at which the Crowley-Milner strike was settled were held in the governor's suite in the Book-Cadillac Hotel here. Commenting on the settlement, James B. Jones, president of the company said:

"The governor has done an excellent job and has been fair to both sides."

With the sudden change in temperature, chains for wheels, and alcohol for radiators were in order, bringing about an unexpected busy period for garages, over the week end. Pa Newc noticed several garages crowded with vehicles, yesterday.

SELECTING JURY TO HEAR TRIAL FOR 1906 MURDER

Lake, Ontario, Canada, went on trial on a charge of murder of Francesco Romeo on October 7, 1906. At 2 p. m. the jury had been accepted and the indications were that the taking of testimony would start about two-thirty this afternoon.

On October 7, 1906 Romeo was shot to death near New Castle Junction. He allegedly named Dominick Caio and Rocco Esposito as his assailants and Caio was tried in December 1906 and freed. Esposito was not to be found at that time and on January 1, 1937 he was arrested in Kirkland Lake, Ontario by Frank Costa, investigator for Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti.

Pleads Not Guilty

Esposito was brought into court shortly after nine o'clock this morning and being arraigned pleaded "not guilty." He is being defended by Attorneys Frank O. Moretti and Sherman K. Levine of New Castle and D. F. Rendinell, of Youngstown, O. The case is being prosecuted by District Attorney Mont L. Ailey, Judge W. Walter Braham is sitting in the case.

Apparently the commonwealth has no intention of asking for the death penalty in the case as none of the jurors were questioned as to their feeling in the matter of capital punishment. One question stressed by the commonwealth was whether or not the juror would be affected by the fact that Esposito is being tried over 30 years after the death of Romeo.

The indictment against Esposito is yellow with age. It was prepared by Joseph V. Cunningham who was district attorney in 1906. The foreman of the grand jury hearing the case was W. H. Braby. The county detective was J. Lee McFate. The alderman who held Caio on the same indictment was O. H. P. Green.

What testimony the commonwealth will offer is not known. Most of the witnesses used in 1906 are dead, and it is likely that some attempt will be made to introduce testimony offered then. This will undoubtedly precipitate a battle between counsel.

No court was held in number one, Judge James A. Chambers waiting until the Esposito jury was selected before opening court there.

Universal Plant Establishes $5 Minimum Wage

Through W. Keith McAfee, president, announcement is made that effective tomorrow, a minimum wage of $5 per day will become effective in the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing Company plant here.

This is an additional adjustment from the wage increase, announced some time ago at the plant.

Increased business is the chief reason ascribed for the wage increase, it is stated.

Note Teller Is Placed On Trial As First Defendant In Federal Court At Erie

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., March 15.—A last minute switch in plans today placed Stanley B. Benton, a note teller, on trial as the first of 11 defendants indicted in an alleged shortage of $1,300,000 in the Commercial National Bank of Bradford in federal court here.

Harold L. Miller, a savings account teller, pleaded guilty and was expected to testify for the government.

Youthful Prosecutor John D. Ray charged his plans at the last minute after first announcing Howard J. Benson, a discount clerk at the bank which closed its doors in September of 1935 would be the first defendant to face the jury.

Benton went on trial on a charge of making false entries.

Seven Meet Death During Storm In Philadelphia Area

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, March 15—Seven persons were killed and more than a score of others were injured in automobile accidents in the Philadelphia metropolitan district Sunday during the heaviest snowfall of the season.

Snow-covered windshields and skidding on ice-coated streets, and highways were blamed for most of the fatalities, the worst death toll of the winter. The snowstorm, which howled down for 18 hours, turned to rain early today. With bus schedules disrupted and planes grounded, more snow was forecast for later today.

SIT-DOWN STRIKE STILL GOING ON

and J. Alpert, one of the members of the firm, both of whom were here last week taking part in the wage negotiations.

Conditions Unchanged

In the meantime, the striking workers are still sitting it out in the factory here, and conditions locally are unchanged.

Saturday evening, a barn dance was staged at the plant, local musicians contributing the music.

Sunday afternoon, Rev. Thomas B. Shearer, pastor of the Central Christian church, conducted Sunday school, while in the evening, Capt. Bevan, of the Salvation Army, Rev. A. P. Shaffer, of the West Pittsburg M. E., and H. L. Johnson, of the Simpson M. E. were at the plant conducting services in the evening.

Many of the strikers' friends and relatives visited them on Saturday and Sunday, it was stated, although the crowd around the plant was not as large as it had been on the previous week-end.

Hair Cuts Given

Sunday, Nick Faella and Frank Mack, from Faiella's barber shop on West Washington street, local union barbers went to the plant and cut the hair of all the men there, working all day long at the task, their services being contributed.

The striking employes are contented, they state, and intend to wait the thing out until some development occurs, one way or the other. By now their days have become a regular routine. Employes in the plant have been furnishing entertainment, a group gathering near the microphone of the loud speaking system installed at the plant and spontaneously bursting into song now and then.

Others are spending their time doing fancy work, sewing, reading, or playing cards.

When nine o'clock in the evening arrives, the lights in the north end of the building are turned out, and the women retire to their section of the building for the night, looking forward with hope to another day.

APPROVE FIRE TOWER PROJECTS FOR SCHOOL

equip those buildings with the "last word" in fire safety construction. Plans for the work were drawn up by the W. G. Eckles company, local architects.

Two of the towers will be constructed at South Hall and one tower will be erected at North Hall, the WPA said.

The new improvements will provide steel stairways protected by fire doors and will replace old wooden doors which have been in service until now.

WPA officials said the project is one of the most important to be given "presidential approval" during the past few weeks.

Nature prevents mob tyranny. When any group gets big enough to run things, it begins to divide into factions.

FAITH

We have always tried, as near as possible, to be truthful in our advertisements about our funeral home. And nearly everything that we repeat in regards to same in our ads, is something that has been brought to our attention by the public. It would be impossible, in our limited space, to mention the different words of commendation we receive from week to week.

It behooves everyone who does any advertising to be careful in regards to making statements through the press to the public. Within the last month a funeral director, doing one of the largest volumes of business done in the United States today, was brought before the courts for misrepresentation and untruthful remarks in his advertisements.

MATRONS O. E. S. GUESTS AT LOVELY LUNCHEON

Mrs. Lucy Round, District Deputy Grand Matron, of District 2-B, Order of the Eastern Star, was a most gracious hostess, Saturday afternoon when she presided over a 1 o'clock luncheon, for the pleasure of the Ballojen Round Table club members, in the Nixon Hotel, Butler, Pa.

Appointments were carried out in the Spring motif, a large bouquet of yellow daffodils and pale yellow roses, artistically arranged, adorned the table center. Novel miniature china dogs in the form of holders, contained dainty clusters of sweet-peas. These were found at each place as favors.

After partaking of a delicious full course menu, the time was spent informally. In the drawings, pretty prizes were awarded to Mrs. Margaret Whieldon of this city and Mrs. Elizabeth Leopold of Chicora, Pa.

Among those attending from New Castle included Mrs. Whieldon, worthy matron, of New Castle Chapter, 105; Mrs. Lucille Falls, worthy matron of Shenango Chapter, 333; Mrs. Emma Leslie, worthy matron, of Cathedral Chapter, 440 and the hostess, Mrs. Round. The club is composed of presiding worthy matrons of the various chapters of the district, ten sharing the delightful event on Saturday.

The next gathering of the club will take place Saturday May 15, with Mrs. Alice Datt, Mars, Pa., hostess in charge.

SECTION ONE WILL CONVENE WEDNESDAY

With Mrs. James Cooper as the hostess of the afternoon, Section 1 ladies will gather for luncheon in the First Christian church, Wednesday at 1 p. m.

This will be a regular meeting, with a business meeting following.

Quilt Toppers

Members of the Quilt Top Club will meet in the home of Mrs. Floyd Jones, Fulkerson street, Wednesday.

BRIDE AND GROOM TO OCCUPY SUBURBAN HOME

A bride and groom of Saturday evening, March 13, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dagnon will be "at home" to friends in their newly furnished suburban residence, located on the Wilmington road, the first of the coming week. They are now on a wedding trip to Washington, D. C. Baltimore, Md., and other points of interest, having started from Butler, Pa., where the ceremony was performed.

The bride, the former Margaret Elizabeth Laurel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Laurel, of Lyndal street, graduated from New Castle high school, and also was graduated from the Shenango Valley hospital in the year of '28, in nurses training. She has been doing nursing at the local Jameson Memorial hospital, and is vice president of the Jameson-Shenango Nurses Alumnae. Also, Mrs. Dagnon is affiliated with the American Red Cross, and the Army Reserves.

Mr. Dagnon attended the local high school, and is associated with the Haney Furniture Company, as a salesman. Both are well known and popular among the young set of this vicinity.

MRS. F. R. FEHL TO BE FIELD CLUB HOSTESS

Mrs. F. R. Fehl will preside as hostess to Field club members Wednesday afternoon at their club house when one of the series of dessert-bridge parties will be featured.

Mrs. Fehl is receiving reservations from those planning to participate, and indications point to a large attendance of guests.

The informal program will be launched shortly after 1 o'clock with the serving of dessert, and a contest in bridge will occupy the balance of the afternoon. Prizes are to be awarded those winning honors.

Re-Delta-Deck Club

Re-Delta-Deck club members will meet this evening in the home of Miss Laina Niemi, 812 Pearl street.

NURSES HOME SCENE OF INFORMAL DANCE

Our hats go off to the members of the Jameson-Shenango nurses alumnae of the Jameson Memorial hospital, who staged a "good will" dance in the nurses home Friday evening, having as their guests the students of the hospital, together with the office girls and the laboratory.

Couples numbering 60 or more participated and a program of pleasing music was provided by a popular orchestra engaged for the occasion. The ballroom was cleverly decorated with shamrocks and other ornaments suggestive of St. Patrick's Day. The serving of refreshments also contributed further to the success of the event, the first of its kind undertaken by the alumnae.

The committee in charge, composed of Jessie Kildoo, Elizabeth Taylor, Betty Blackford, Roberta Speer, Mary Adams, Dorothy McMillin, Grace Parker and Elizabeth Kendall.

NEWS OF WEDDING GIVEN AT SHOWER

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rishel of McClelland avenue received a number of friends in their home on Saturday evening at a shower in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Grim, just recently married.

Music and games were provided for the interest of the guests and a delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Arthur Pearce, Mrs. Paul Campbell and Mrs. Paul Rishel.

Mrs. Grim will be remembered as the former Evelyn Rishel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Griff Rishel of King avenue. The marriage took place at New Cumberland, W. Va., on January 4, 1937, with the Methodist Episcopal minister, Rev. Ivan J. Howland, officiating with the single ring ceremony.

Mr. Grim is a well known local resident and is employed by the Wadding automobile service station at Walmo.

At present the couple is residing at the home of the bride's parents.

BRIDE-ELECT GUEST AT SHOWER EVENT

Mrs. Elwina Messner and Miss Dorothy Wyman were co-hostesses Friday evening at the home of the former on Grandview avenue when they entertained at a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Isabel Bryan, bride-elect.

The time was spent informally with cards and conversation, and at a suitable hour lunch was served. The table was colorfully decorated in a combination of green and white and places marked for 20 guests. The presentation of an array of beautiful gifts featured the hours that ensued.

Miss Bryan will become the bride of Harry Wyman some time in April, the date to be announced.

BAR HASTY WEDDINGS IN WEST VIRGINIA

AN effective step forward in the movement to stop "elopements" to Wellsburg, W. Va., productive of so many divorce cases took place during the week when the West Virginia legislature passed a bill requiring three days notice before issuance of a marriage license. The measure becomes effective 90 days after being signed by the governor.

Likewise, the New York Assembly passed by a vote of 101 to 1 a bill requiring a 72-hour interval between issuance of a marriage license and performance of the ceremony.

Pennsylvania's interest in these measures lies in the fact that if passed by the Senates and approved by the Governors of the two states avenues through which our own law to prevent hasty marriages has been evaded will be closed.

Debate on the bills at Charleston and Albany produced no impressive argument in opposition.

In West Virginia the plea was made that loss of elopement business would be a blow to Wellsburg merchants, while in New York the silly contention was submitted that when people got the urge to marry they should not be allowed to "cool off."

A complete ban on hasty marriages probably may result in a considerable loss of business by divorce attorneys, but think of the misery from which many young couples will be saved!

SKIERS' DISCONTENT

From points North, where men are men and the land, under ordinary conditions, is filled with skiing slopes, toboggan slides and skating ponds, come reports that plans are now in the making for a great and a glorious Winter next year.

The season now about to yield to Spring was a keen disappointment to the devotees of Winter sports. If they had not been sportsmen, fundamentally and essentially, they would have pined and wept. Instead, they look to the future, confident in the knowledge that there are practically never two such Winters in succession and seldom more than one in a decade.

Next year, no doubt, the skiers will come into their own.

NO LOAN PLAN FOR DEFAULTING NATIONS

France is the first of the defaulting nations of Europe to encounter in its more realistic forms the resentment of the American people over the shameless and conscienceless refusal of European governments to pay legal and moral debts amounting to more than $11,000,000,000. Until recently there has been a disposition abroad to regard the Johnson Act as an idle gesture, a legislative sop to public feeling, a feeble barrier that could be surmounted quite readily when circumstances demanded.

Through the experience of France, however, the other defaulting nations now learn that the Johnson Act, which prohibits borrowing in this country by governments that have defaulted on their war loans, is really a potent measure which guards the United States from the danger of being defrauded twice by the same people.

Secretary Morgenthau's announcement that he had barred France from designating fiscal agents in the United States to handle prospective American investments in a projected French billion-dollar defense loan is of vital significance. This proposal represented an obvious scheme to evade the Johnson Act by having the actual transactions involving American investments in French bonds take place in France. The plan is scotched effectively by Secretary Morgenthau's ruling.

"When we enacted this law, we contemplated a time in the future when these nations would come to us again for loans," said Senator Johnson, author of the law. "We foresaw that European nations would be snarling at one another and war would be in the offing, and that when they would want another loan."

European nations are now snarling at each other and they now want another loan. But the American people are dead against the use of American money for the construction of the new European edifice of armaments, soon destined to burst into flames.

WINGS TO NEW ZEALAND

To that isolated island Commonwealth, Australia, and its nearby dominion neighbor, New Zealand, it must be good news that the Pan-American Airways will soon start a regular scheduled freight and passenger transport service linking California with the far South Seas. Travel and traffic time will be cut from 19 days by steamer to four days as a plane flies.

A Dutch airline is planning service between Manila and Java, connecting with Brisbane and Sydney, Australia, while another link between New Guinea and Guam is in view, so fast are the South Seas modernizing.

The population of New Zealand, the southern terminus, is only 1,573,000, while Australia's entire population is about that of New York City.

One may reasonably wonder whether passenger traffic with the United States will be a paying proposition. Although the wheat and wool production of this lower Pacific sector is important, and exports from the United States of textiles, oil products, automobiles and other machinery are of goodly measure, it also can rightly be queried whether these justify airplane or other rapid transport.

There is even more drama attached to the aerial opening of this vast water-and-islands expanse than marked inauguration last October of the scheduled San Francisco-to-Manila air service over familiar shipping lanes. The planes will pause at Samoa and soar not far from the Fiji Islands. Robinson Crusoe's island is to the West, but the shadows of man-made birds will some day be familiar to modern Men Friday there, too.

The military significance of American planes being able to maintain the proposed 7000-mile journey regularly, including the now common 2400-mile hop to Hawaii, is not stressed, but need not be ignored.

But you aren't being charitable if you are merely trying to buy a little gratitude.

If they can't make a success of marriage, they probably can't make a success of any other human relationship.

The Parent Problem

SCHOOL PROGRAMS

When the school puts on a public program illustrating what the children actually do, we parents eagerly turn out in large numbers. Recently it was the privilege of Mrs. Myers and me to observe such a program at the Monticello Junior High school, of Cleveland Heights, O.—the most effective interpretation of the school to the home that I have ever witnessed.

The outlined program was intended to emphasize the various aspects of art study as conducted in the school: lettering, appreciation, and craftsmanship. Nearly half the children of the school participated.

The first act was a parade of pupils with cut-out letters, shoulder high, forming and reforming words and sentences appropriate to the occasion—correlating letterings with physical education work.

Illustrative of appreciation were three scense related to "The Night Watch", by Rembrandt, a copy of which hangs in the corridor of the school. The first scene represented a meeting of the company to commission Rembrandt to paint their group. In the second scene, the complete picture in costume, pose, and accoutrements carefully copied from the original. The third showed the rejection of Rembrandt's painting by the guild.

Bright Scene

"The Symphony of Color" was a bright scene in which the central idea was that little girls, clad in dainty garments of the various primary colors, were thrown into the mixing mill out of which came blended colors and tones.

Very unusual was the number, "In the Art Gallery". On the walls of the stage were displayed various art creations of the pupils, from tapestries to wastebaskets, and from portrait sketches to clay statuettes. A pupil acting as guide conducted other pupils and gave a running discussion of the materials, interrupted by questions, quite after the manner of a gallery instructor. We in the audience got the illusion of sharing these experiences, and at the same time learned about the kind of work in art the students of this school do.

The final section of the program was based on the story of the Odyssey, which is studied in the ninth grade of the school. There was revealed considerable originality in the way the students retold this story, in its interpretation, in the solution of numerous problems in costume, lighting, posture, and especially for the use of grotesque masks.

Although the program was an outgrowth of the regular work of several months, it lasted but little over one hour. Except for a few sentences of welcome from the principal, only the children appeared in this program.

MIRACLE IN THE HEART

I hold a sprig of daphne in my hand, admiring the crisp green leaves, the delicate pink petals, pressing my face deep into that lovely perfume that is like no other in all the world.

I know exactly where that daphne grew, budded and bloomed.....The precise spot on this earth. I put it there, and we left that home, I regretted its loss more than anything else in the garden. But rooted things must stay where they are, and we could not take it with us.

It was a special daphne plant... special to be because I'd tried an experiment on it. You see for several years, after we planted it, it refused to bloom. It took out water, our care gave only promises of perfumed beauty.

Then some one told me that if I took a knife and girdled its trunk about three-quarters round it would put forth flowers, the next spring.... It seemed a silly thing to do—half kill a plant to torture beauty from it. But I tried it, cut the bark away—and that next spring the flowers came, and the home was sweet with perfume.....I don't know why or how it happened. All I know is that this living plant, handicapped by my knife, drew on some hidden source of strength and burst into bloom.

There came a year when the daphne was lazy again and again. Last fall it was girlded and again this year—it blooms and I hold the swet harvest in my hand.

I think this is a strange, a beautiful thing....I give it as a living reminder and suggestion, that out of bitterly unwelcome experience may come sweetness and delight. Not always, it is true, but often enough to prove that this blessed miracle IS possible.

DEFECTS in rooms may be remedied by the proper use of lines or of groupings. Thus perpendicular panels or wall paper stripes will appear to heighten a room that is too low. Long, narrow draperies with no valance will heighten windows that are too short. A vertically-striped cover will give height to a chair that is too squat and the vertical hanging of picture groups—one above the other—will give the impression of height to wall space.

A high room is made to appear lower by having the color of the ceiling carried down to the tops of the window draperies with a valance and by low book shelves.

Dear Miss Markel—My living room has a number of large, separate windows. What kind of curtains should I use in this room?
WONDERING.

Answer—For a room with numerous windows, curtains of plain material, rather than those of striking patterns are in better taste.

Let the view from the windows, as well as the objects in the room, supply your decorative effect and in this way avoid the confusion of overemphasis.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

RACKETEERS OVERLOOKED THIS

No Depression, no matter how serious, or how long it may last, has ever or will it ever discourage the saving citizens from still adding to their hoard. These hoarders are now appearing in the market place and are they bargainers? I say they are. They have the cash and to the devil with the credit.

One such couple, noted for their frugality, decided to buy the farm adjoining their property. The price agreed upon was $20,000 and they went to town to conclude the transaction.

They entered the bank carrying an old battered milk pail with a tin cover out of which the farmer started to count out an assortment of money, much of which had been out of circulation for some time.

Finally he reached the bottom and stopped, obviously much upset.

"Why, there's only $15,000 here" he exclaimed.

His wife looked equally concerned for a moment. Then her face brightened.

"You must've brought the wrong pail, pa!" she exclaimed.

As one philosopher once said, however, in giving his daughter some advice.

"It is all right to save for a rainy day, but for Heaven's sake, don't save for a flood."

ADVICE TO LOVERS

"Wed not for money" some one cries
Forever willing to advise.
And next "seek more than lovely eyes."

"Beware the college maiden, too;
Trouble in time is bound to brew
When she more culture has than you"

If she be poor but fair to see,
These counselors will all agree
A wife less radiant ought to be.

But this I say: Young man beware
These ready counselors everywhere
Who want to run your love affair.

For summing up the hints you'll gain
You'll think the hope for joy is vain
Unless your wife be poor and plain.

"And supposing I were Levy," replied the stranger, "did you have to hit me so hard?"

"What do you care how hard I hit Levy?" retorted Goldberg.

"Then we add chemicals to it."

"Yes."

"And then we drink beer."

Bert Lahr Is Shy Off Stage

McIntyre Contrasts Difference Between Comedian Behind Footlights And In Front

MODERN MAGIC HAS HIM FOOLED

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, March 15.—Diary: Came a rocking chair an old Ohio steamboat man sent off the steamer Shirley, which I watched round the bend many times. And so through town passing Frederic McKay, extra spruce in a natty fawn topcoat, and saw Faith Baldwin, too, hurrying along.

O. O. McIntyre

So reading a piece about April Love to my wife and cousin Josephine, which I wrote for Harry Burton, and they laughed but lightly albeit I imagined it hilarious. So away with them to a tea place and talked to the songsters Chic Endor and Charlie Farrell, two of my favorite troubadours.

Dined at The Mascotte, sitting next table to Sir Cedric Hardwicke, the English play actor, and the zabaglione as velvety as I ever tasted. Then shopping for a pair of gloves for a birthday gift to the housekeeper's son, Robert Koechlin, as fine a broth of a lad at 18 as I ever come upon to know.

Most people who meet Bert Lahr off stage are surprised at the contrast. Instead of a frightened looking zany with a torn pocket mouth and a cockeyed fluster, they find a study in calmness. The roaring voice of a Stentor is a muted undertaker parlor whisper. Even his clothes are a direct contradiction to his shrieking stage getups. He has a boyish shyness before strangers, often becoming so confused he is inarticulate. He likes to sit at Reuben's late at night sipping coffee, all alone and brooding.

Modern magic has about got me down. After a private dinner the other evening a suave prestidigitateur came in to entertain. After a series of evanishments he stopped before me and asked if he might borrow my breast-pocket handkerchief. "Perhaps," he cooed, "you will want to keep the monogram." And with that the reckless fool snipped off the corner in which it was inset. A cut-out monogram not easily duplicated. Then he rolled the shorn monogram into the handkerchief, tossed it in the air and let it flutter down. The monogram was intact, just as it was when I removed it from my pocket. A trick, of course, but you figure it out. I'm all ipsi-pipsi.

Personal nomination for the most hilarious magazine burlesque of the decade—The New Yorker's travesty of Time.

The ski craze hit mid-town New York this winter with something of a bang. That little city within a city—Tudor City—rigged up a slide 280 feet long and 20 feet wide for the 5,000 residents of this West 41 street cul de sac. When there is no natural snow it is manufactured. The guiding hand in the Tudor City enterprise is Heywood Broun's brother, Irving.

For a shopping tingle I like to prowl around that Frenchified botique known as Maison Glass in the shadows of the aristocratic Ritz Carlton. Here one finds the knickknacks that fulfill the most roseate dreams of gluttony and which are a bit too eloquent for the average menu. Such as the rarest of gray and black caviar at $25 a pound, truffles, pate de fois gras, jellied ortolans, passion fruits filled with floating seeds and all sorts of doo dads for canapes. Things in aspic, rare old cheeses that include the real Normandy Camembert, and snails that cost almost a dollar a nibble. Also chutney and the various sauces the secrets of which are known only in France and England, and are handed down from one generation to another like a priceless painting. Jambon Olida, a French ham that costs nearly a dollar a thin slice. Flageolets and a ravishing variety of preserves even unto those large, luscious jubile black cherries, for which night club robbers charge $1.25 per smack when smothering ice cream.

Bagatelles: Jose Iturbi, the pianist, is an ardent Mickey Mouse fan . . . James Montgomery Flagg likes to sketch on top of a bus . . . Andrew Mellon varies his heavy reading with an Oppenheim thriller now and then . . . Ben De Casseres was once regarded as Broadway's most enduring night owl . . . But with marriage goodbye to all that . . . Francis Albertanti, prize fight press agent, attends highbrow lectures on art just for the heck of it.

One doesn't get very far being uppity with the New York brand of taxi driver. Today when one fumbled uncertainly in his pocket I observed with a faint jeer: "No change, of course". He replied: "No change or sense or I wouldn't be hacking guys like you."

There are tricks to every trade, or so goes the axiom. Edward M. He does, as you can see, although his model, Edith Backus, poses on a stepladder in the studio, and not on a sailing vessel on the lake as the poster depicts.

Set New Record In Rural Line Building

Pennsylvania Power Company Builds 28.7 Miles Last Month

During the month of February, the Pennsylvania Power Company constructed 28.7 miles of rural electric lines, which, according to L. B. Round, vice president and general manager, is the largest mileage ever built by the company in any one month.

Through gradual improvement in design and greater efficiency in construction, the company has made advanced strides in the job of bringing electric service to the rural areas. Another factor contributing to this advance is the cooperation of the farmers and rural residents themselves in facilitating the securing and clearing of the necessary right-of-way for the lines.

The company anticipates a very active year in rural line building and already many miles are ready for construction as soon as the line crews complete work now in progress. It is an assured fact that additional hundreds of farmers will, before next winter arrives, be relieved of the ardous chore of pumping and carrying water in sub-zero weather and the many other tasks to which electricity has been applied.

At the present time almost forty percent of the farms located within the territory served by the company are receiving service from the company's lines. This record is evidence of the extent to which rural electrification has progressed in this territory, and with the construction that is contemplated for 1937, a substantial increase in this percentage will be seen.

INCLINED PLANE

Do you know that at Johnstown is an Inclined Plane which serves as a passenger conveyor up and down a mountain side?

This plane was built in 1891. It is 502 feet high. The length of the runway is 896 feet. Were one to walk up the mountain side, it would require 900 steps. There are two cars, each weighing 42 tons and each having a 15 ton capacity. There are two ropes, each 1130 feet long which are tested to a strength of 167 tons. One is an emergency or safety rope.

Atop the mountain that skirts Johnstown, along Stoney Creek, is located the suburb of Westmont, at an altitude of 1693 feet above sea level. The road that links Westmont to the central section of the city require a round about trip. This plane was built to carry passengers and vehicles up and down the mountain side at a grade of 71 per cent. Visitors seldom miss the thrilling experience offered by this Inclined Plane.

As one car is being pulled up the mountain side another car is being lowered to the base. A marvelous panorama of the mountain, gorges, and hills that develop Johnstown, is revealed from one of these observation cars. One with a vivid imagination can see how the water from the South Fork Dam on the Conemaugh flooded the city twice, once in 1862, when little damage was done the second time in 1889, causing the terrible disaster which claimed 2235 lives and caused an estimated damage of $10,000,000.

DON'T TRIFLE WITH COLDS

Follow this Practical Home-Guide to Better Control of Colds

1. To Help Prevent Colds:
At the first sniffle or sneeze or the slightest irritation in the nose—quick!—put a few drops of Vicks Va-tro-nol up each nostril. Va-tro-nol is specialized medication, expressly designed for the nose and upper throat, where most colds start. Used in time, it helps to prevent many colds—and to throw off head-colds in their early stages.

2. To Relieve a Cold:
If a cold strikes without warning or gets by even the best precautions—as some colds always will—go straight to bed. Then, for prompt relief, use this vigorous treatment with your dependable Vicks VapoRub:

Massage VapoRub briskly on the back (between and below the shoulder-blades) as well as on the throat and chest, for 3 full minutes. Then spread a thick layer over the chest and cover with a warmed cloth. Long after you relax into restful sleep, VapoRub's famous poultice-vapor action continues hour after hour. It loosens phlegm, eases your cough, relieves irritation, and helps to break up local congestion.

Sickness From Colds Cut in Half!

These two simple steps, together with a few sensible health rules, are the basis of Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. Vicks Plan is a simple, practical plan which you can easily follow in your own home. It is also a tested plan. In the most extensive colds-clinic of its kind ever conducted—among 17,353 subjects—Vicks Plan resulted in fewer colds and shorter colds—cut down sickness from colds more than half!

Final Reports Of Ingathering Friday Evening

Y. W. C. A. Workers Will Give Last Reports On Memberships Secured

PLEDGES ALSO TO BE COUNTED THEN

Tuesday at 6:15 p. m. the church teams working on the annual Y. W. C. A. membership ingathering will have their closing dinner-meeting of the campaign and present their final reports.

Hitherto the captains have been reporting cash-paid memberships only. Tuesday evening pledged-memberships will be received as well. Many of the church women approached have promised to pay their fee before June 1.

All workers are to be present at the meeting or send their reports to the "Y" before 6:15. The dinner will be from 6:15 to 7:15. Workers will note that this is a change in date in order to allow all to attend their church meetings at the close.

Many have been working very diligently on their church rolls for prospective Y. W. C. A. members and it is likely that tomorrow's reports will show a great increase over those of last Friday.

Several interesting renewals have been made, one from Mrs. S. E. McCleary, aged 93 years, who is a charter member and has in her possession membership cards over a period of 30 years.

The bus was badly damaged, it was stated, and while an old vehicle, was still in fairly good condition. It was the property of the school district.

SEWING UNIT GIVES TO FLOOD RELIEF

Among the contributions which were received by the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, for the relief of the flood sufferers in the Ohio River and Mississippi River Valleys last month, was a donation of $37.75 from the W. P. A. Sewing Unit at the Lawrence school. Through an oversight, this contribution had not been acknowledged, Chairman Paul F. Butz, of the Disaster Relief committ stated. The contribution was made through Mrs. Wallace.

The familiar phrase, "Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown" comes from Shakespeare's "King Henry IV."

Councilmen Will Investigate Claim

Mulcahy Asserts Council Recommendations Needed For W. P. A. Jobs

COUNCILMEN DENY CONDITION EXISTS

Will Likely Have Conference With W. P. A. Officials Over Assertions

Myor Charles E. McGrath indicated during council meeting at the city building today that a session would be held between council and officials of the WPA relative to statements made in council meeting today by M. A. Mulcahy, 314 Northview avenue.

Mulcahy said he had been informed by WPA officials he could secure a WPA job if he was recommended by council. Mulcahy further stated that Joseph Devine and Captain Butler had given him the impression a list of persons recommended for jobs had come from the city building.

Mulcahy added that he had been informed that his name was not included among those said to have been recommended for a job and he would like to know why he cannot go to work. He said that Joseph Devine would verify the statements made this morning.

Further, Mulcahy claimed that Devine had assured him that "if I came here (council) and got the consent of the councilmen and the city engineer, Captain Butler will try to put me back to work." Mulcahy formerly was employed on a project.

Mayor Replies.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath said that "we do not have any understanding that we have any power." He pointed to the airport project. He said that council inquired at that time if the body had any power naming a man there and was given a negative reply.

Mayor McGrath and councilmanic colleagues stated that if any list had been recommended for employment it did not come from them and if any subordinate had presented such a list the subordinate was acting wholly without sanction of council.

"They (WPA officials) are leaving the impression that council has something to do with the placing of men and I am willing to face them any time," Mulcahy said.

"We may need you, Mr. Mulcahy," Mayor McGrath replied.

"I am not blaming council or the city engineer but the WPA is leaving the people with the impression you do have the authority. If you are not sponsoring the men the public ought to know this," Mulcahy advised.

Council Denials.

The mayor said that all members of council had denied submitting a list of men recommended for jobs.

Councilman Joseph D. Alexander said that whenever he was questioned concerning the qualifications of any man he had started the man's qualifications and would at any time recommend a qualified man. However, he said he had no role in submitting any list of recommendations.

Mayor McGrath said there was nothing wrong in this.

The mayor said, so far as he knows, council had not presented the list referred to, added that council had no power to place men on WPA jobs after a project was signed and turned over to the WPA, and indicated that it would be advisable for council and the officials of the WPA to discuss the statements of Mulcahy relative to a list of men recommended for jobs having been presented. Councilman J. M. Rice took the same attitude.

COURT CHARGE SENDS SANUTE'S TRIAL TO JURY

verdicts were possible: second degree murder, manslaughter or acquittal.

"There is not in this case one particle of legal proof or one legitimate legal inference that the defendant unlawfuly killed Frank C. Monaghan or that he engaged in any conspiracy to do so," Judge Maxey explained to the jury in detailing why he outlawed a first degree verdict.

"Did he then aid and abet someone who did?" he asked.

"Since I have ruled out the charge that the defendant unlawfully killed Frank C. Monaghan, the commonwealth's charge comes down to this: the defendant aided and abetted his unlawful killing by Stacey Gunderman.

"Before that charge can be sustained, the commonwealth must prove (1) that Monaghan was killed unlawfully by Stacey Gunderman and (2) that Sanute aided and abetted him in that unlawful act."

Cites Precedents

Justice Maxey cited several precedents for his ruling against first degree murder. Then he continued:

"This case has been sensationalized as the killing of a man by police officers while subjecting him to the so-called third degree. How could any officers with such a motive in their minds at the same time have an intent to kill the man? A dead prisoner cannot confess."

After ruling out some of the commonwealth's evidence, Justice Maxey turned, as he had done in the Gunderman trial, to the "ear witnesses" who told of hearing pleas for mercy and shrieks of pain emanating from the Bertillon room while Monaghan was being questioned.

"I cannot understand why these witnesses....did not go to Monaghan's assistance," Justice Maxey declared.

"Does not the conduct of these good citizens indicate to you that they heard nothing from Frank Monaghan in the Bertillon room except the natural protest of a half-drunken man who objected to being forced under a shower bath?"

ORCHARD PRUING MEETING

Fruit trees will be pruned at this time to show desirable methods of trimming trees and other orchard management problems will be discussed.

This meeting will also include the pruning of small fruits. All orchard men are invited to attend this meeting.

DRY HOUSING HELPS TO PREVENT COCCIDIOSIS

A dry condition in the brooder house will aid in preventing coccidiosis. This may be accomplished by giving the chicks plenty of room, having a light fluffy litter that will absorb moisture, and using fountains that do not spill water.

Poultrymen who buy day-old pullet chicks should remember that 150 of these chicks will need, in 3 or 4 weeks, as much house as double this number of "straight run" chicks.

From one to two inches of litter will serve as floor insulation from the cold below. Good litter materials include ground corn cobs (if free from molds), shavings, and clean cut straw. Some flock owners have used a layer of shavings covered with cut straw. This combination takes up moisture from the droppings and, in addition, permits the manure to sift through to the floor. The litter should be stirred daily to permit drying.

Fountains that spill little water are advisable. These vessels should be set on hardware cloth platforms in order to prevent the chicks from working in the damp areas which may surround them. Remember the development of several chick troubles depends upon warm moist conditions in order to incubate and become infectious.

SAVE SEED BY PROPER PREPARATION OF SOIL

Eight pounds of red clover or alfalfa sown on each acre puts more than 60 seeds on each square foot of ground. With alsike clover the number is more than doubled and with timothy it is about five times as great.

It does not take many clover and timothy plants to the square foot to provide a good stand and produce a good crop. Apparently the mortality is quite high and more seed is sown than should be necessary.

With hardy, adapted clover and alfalfa seed scarce and costly, it is imperative that something be done to insure good stands with less seed, thus saving each farmer money and making the adapted seed sow more acres.

Often the soil is not prepared properly for seeding. What the little seedlings need is a fine soil, worked until it is solid and firm. Fall or winter plowing gives more of this condition than spring plowing.

Better seedbeds for clover and grass can be gotten, often with less time and labor, by disking or harrowing corn and potato fields instead of loosening them deeply with a plow. Going over spring-plowed land a few more times with the disk, roller, or plank drag before sowing will make possible better stands with less seed. The stand nearly always is better at the ends of the field which get extra tramping or in the drill wheel track.

Lighter sowing of oats and the use of barley or earlier varieties of oats will reduce the competition with the clover and result in fewer burned-out and dried-up clover stands. Oats cut in the milk stage make good hay and in dry seasons this operation greatly helps the clover.

In winter grain, better and surer stands have been obtained by sowing a smaller amount of seed with a disk seeder after the ground is dry enough for a team than in throwing a heavy seeding on the ground early in the spring. Some farmers go over the grain with a harrow, weeder, or cultipacker after broadcast seedings, while others use a disk drill with the clover sown down the spouts.

Alfalfa seedlings seem to be more susceptible than clover to killing by late freezes. Alfalfa seed also needs more careful covering than clover. Later sowing and some covering are especially desirable where alfalfa makes up all or a part of the seeding. Later sown clover and alfalfa also are less likely to die during the dry weather so common in late April and May. Some farmers split the seeding, putting half on early and the other half late, thus dividing the risk of bad weather. Six or eight pounds of red clover or alfalfa per acre should be ample, along with 4 to 6 pounds of timothy.

Friday, the Wayne Township ladies will hold a demonstration on Various Ways of using Left-overs." The meeting is scheduled for 1:00 p. m. at the home of Mrs. M. G. Thalgott, Ellwood City, Pa., R. D. No. 1.

All women interested are invited to attend any of the above demonstration meetings to be conducted by Miss Mary Vogle, Home Economics Extension Worker for Lawrence County.

THE WAY TO COOK MEAT IS DECIDED BY THE CUT

Meat should be cooked according to cuts, says Miss Mary Vogle, Home Economics Extension representative. Tough cuts require longer cooking and are usually improved by cooking in moist heat as stewing, boiling, or fricassening. For the tender cuts of meat which come from the less exercised parts of the animal, dry heat as broiling or roasting is to be preferred.

Ideas about the roasting of meats have changed quite radically due to experiments, explains Miss Vogle. The perfect roast today is seasoned, placed in a roaster with bones down and the fat side up. In case of a boneless roast, a rack is placed in the bottom of the roaster to prevent the meat from coming in contact with the drippings. By having the fat side up, the roast is continually basted. If the roast is very lean, strips of bacon or salt may be placed across the top.

The roast is then put into a moderate over 300 to 325° and allowed to cook uncovered and without the addition of water until it is done. Such a roast usually requires about 40 minutes to the pound.

Meat roasted by this method shrinks very little in cooking, since there is little loss of juices and so the meat will be juicy, well cooked, and tender. The chief disadvantage of this method is the extra fuel required and the fact that a roast cooked in this way is not so brown as one cooked by the older method. However, the quality of the meat and the little loss of meat in this method of cooking make it quite worthwhile to the average housewife.

Meter Installer Has Narrow Escape

(International News Service)

CANTON, O., March 15—Earl Minger, city water meter installer, thought the good housewife was using his head for a melon target, when he descended into a basement to inspect a meter.

He discovered, to his surprise, something more formidable than a melon when he looked around. It was a homemade bomb composed of six sticks of dynamite with a fuse attached that had fallen on his head.

Correct this sentence: "I understand and like boys," said the man of sixty, "and they are always glad to have me around."

Seeking To Inject New Enthusiasm In Lebanon Strike

No Indication Of Any Attempt To Reopen Plant—Status Of Strike In Controversy

(International News Service)

LEBANON, Pa., March 15.—CIO organizers sought today to inject new enthusiasm into the ranks of striking Bethlehem Steel corporation plant workers as a "back-to-work" movement reportedly was gaining momentum among the men, idle for more than a week.

Small squads of pickets patrolled the snow-covered grounds about the plant today to guard against any attempt of the management to reopen the plant. There was no indication, however, that officials would attempt to resume operations. The plant employs more than 2,500 workers.

Mass "pep" meetings were held over the week-end as Miles Sweeney, area director for the CIO, sought to strengthen his forces for at least another 10-day siege" with the possibility that other Bethlehem plants in this section and other areas would come within the organization drive.

Continuation of the walkout, however, it was believed, found little support from the workers. One source said that more than 2,000 of the men were ready to "get back on the job". Union organizers denied this.

There is one consolation. Man is so incompetent that he usually does a poor job when he tries to be wicked.

Reorganization Of Republican Party Forecast

Indications Taylor Will Relinguish Toga As Head Of State G. O. P.

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, March 15.—Complete reorganization of the Republican party ni Pennsylvania was seen as inevitable today as indications were that M. Harvey Taylor would relinquish his toga as generalissimo of the state GOP organization.

Tomorrow a group of dissatisfied Republicans, headed by U. S. Senator James J. Davis, who, it is reported, has gubernatorial aspirations, was expected to make Taylor's exit an accomplished fact, either by expelling him according to strict preliminary procedure or by paving the way for a graceful resignation.

Open rebellion, smoldering for months in the western tier of the state, took a definite form this week with the announcement that a meeting will be held by the "insurgent" Republicans tomorrow in Harrisburg.

Following a hide-and-seek game with reporters, Taylor, when confronted with word from western Pennsylvania that his scalp was definitely being sought, issued this brief statement:

"It has been my purpose for some time to call a meeting. The only question has been when it would be most advisable."

He was emphatic, however, in asserting he had called no meeting for tomorrow. His statement was taken by observers to indicate that he had been at least conjuring with the possibility of resigning.

Why Laxatives Fail In Stubborn Constipation

Twelve to 24 hours is too long to wait when relief from clogged bowels and constipation is needed, for then enormous quantities of bacteria accumulate, causing GAS, indigestion and many restless, sleepless nights.

If you want REAL, QUICK RELIEF, take a liquid compound such as Adlerika. Adlerika contains SEVEN cathartic and carminative ingredients that act on the stomach and BOTH bowels. Most "overnight" laxatives contain one ingredient that acts on the lower bowel only.

Adlerika's DOUBLE ACTION gives your system a thorough cleansing, bringing out old poisonous waste matter that may have caused GAS pains, sour stomach, headaches and sleepless nights for months.

Adlerika relieves stomach GAS at once and usually removes bowel congestion in less than two hours. No waiting for overnight results. This famous treatment has been recommended by many doctors and druggists for 35 years. Take Adlerika one-half hour before breakfast or one hour before bedtime and in a short while you will feel marvelously refreshed.

NEAR DECISION ON STATE POOR BOARD SYSTEM

Final Appeal To Be Heard Today

Showdown Is Near On Controversial Public Assistance Issue

MATTER IS UP TO GOVERNOR EARLE

By FREDERICK N. POLANGIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, March 15.—Pennsylvania's 425 poor boards today were to make their last appeal to Gov. George H. Earle against political extinction.

Legislators, returning for the 11th week of the 132nd session, watched closely the developments in the chief executive's office today were representatives of poor boards, the Thompson joint legislative committee on relief, and the Goodrich citizens committee were to meet for a final showdown on the controversial public assistance issue.

Expect Decision

Out of today's conference was expected to come the chief executive's final decision as to what the administration will urge be done with the 200-year-old poor system; whether it should be scrapped entirely and replaced by state-controlled agencies or whether it should be retained in the form of local autonomy groups.

The governor, in his budget message, recommended that the legislature follow generally the lines of the Goodrich report by eliminating the poor board and establishing a consolidated agency for administering public assistant and relief, financed principally by the state.

In fact, legislation to bring this about—Democratic dissension notwithstanding—has already been prepared.

AROUND CITY HALL

Councilman B. F. Butler today arose from bed with an almost certain feeling that winter's belated snowfall would cost the city money and he was not wrong because when he arrived on the job he noted that subordinates in the department of streets already had scattered ashes over slippery streets. Butler has maintained consistently that almost every other city department at budget making time has a good idea of what the department will need during the year, but the cost of operating the street department cannot be foretold owing to weather, which at times has resulted in rainfalls clogging sewers and snow forcing extra work by employes.

City Treasurer C. C. McKibben is looking forward to April because it is then that big industry here annually pays their city tax, which this year will amount to approximately $50,000. The bulk of this is paid by the Carnegie-Illinois Steel company. According to treasury attaches 1937 taxes are coming in at a consistent rate.

It is probable that some time this week city fathers will consider the request of city employes for a complete restoration of wages—a cut having been given the workers some years ago. A portion of the money has been returned. The workers have asked that all of it be returned so that they may be better fortified to meet the advancing cost of living.

Another bill concerning county assessments has come to the desk of the county commissioners. This one would extend the provisions of the present act which provides for the auditor-general to appoint county assessors. At the present time the auditor-general appoints the assessors for counties up to the third class.

While this would be somewhat of an improvement over the present system of county assessors elected from each sub-division in the county, it has some disadvantages, in the minds of the county commissioners.

Chief among the disadvantages is that it removes a local governmental function and places it in the hands of Harrisburg. The assessment is purely for county purposes, the state getting nothing out of it, except that it gives the auditor-general another piece of patronage.

The bill presented by State Senator William J. Eroe, Jr., is infinitely better. This has the appointment of the board in the hands of the county commissioners, as the board of commissioners becomes the board of assessors.

A number of wills have been probated in the past week in the office of Register and Recorder William R. Hanna.

The will of Sarah M. Watson, late of New Castle, leaves everything to a sister, Rebecca Belle Simonton of Youngstown, O.

The will of Margaret E. Wimer, late of Washington township, leaves the estate to two nephews, Roy and Raymond Black.

The will of Bridget McCart, formerly McCoy, late of New Castle, leaves her estate to three sons, James, John and Thomas McCoy.

The will of Emma A. Price, late of Wayne township, leaves her estate to Campbell V. Price.

The will of William J. Campbell, late of New Castle, leaves his estate to his widow, Belle Campbell.

The will of Leroy E. Clark, late of New Castle, leaves his estate to his widow, Clara Clark.

The will of John P. Aiken, late of Shenango township, leaves his estate to his six children, with a few bequests to other relatives.

The will of Mrs. Thresa Hacke, late of New Castle, leaves small bequests to some friends and $2000 to Emma Theres Syfarth, Unterasfield, bei-Meiningen Inthuriigia, Deutchland (Germany), a niece.

The will of William T. Anderson, late of Darlington township, Beaver county, leaves the entire estate to his widow.

The will of James P. Merrilees, late of New Castle, leaves his entire estate to his widow, Lila V. Merrilees.

Letters have been issued in the office of Register and Recorder William R. Hanna to the following people:

Letters of administration to George P. Burckhart as executor in the estate of Catherine A. Burckhart, late of New Castle, who died March 1, 1937.

Letters testamentary to Lila V. Merrilees as executrix in the estate of James P. Merrilees, late of New Castle, who died March 6, 1937.

Letters of administration to Clarence A. Patterson in the estate of Mrs. Thresa Hacke, late of New Castle, who died March 2, 1937.

In the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar a number of cases have been listed.

One case is that of Rachel McMillin vs Alfred K. Stoughton and Joseph Heaney, administrators C. T. A. in the estate of the late Edward J. O'Brien, and Francis O'Brien, Margaret Heaney, Frances Maloney, Mary Butz, Virgil Maloney and the New Castle hospital, heirs at large and devisees of the will of the late Edward J. O'Brien. The case is a scire facias sur mortgage in the amount of $9458.40 and interest from February 16, 1937.

James R. Hughes files a libel in divorce from his wife, Lillian R. Hughes. They were married in Franklin, Pa., February 16, 1931. The charge is desertion.

Two decisions were handed down by Judge W. Walter Braham. The first is in the case of the Robins Furniture company vs the Mahonings Savings & Loan Association. The case is one where an interpleader was entered. The decision overrules the affidavit of defense with permission to file a new one in 15 days.

The second decision is in a similar case in which the Haney Furniture company entered an interpleader in the case against the Mahoning Savings & Loan Association. The same ruling is made in this case as in the first case.

Ray Prosecutor In Bradford Bank Case

Former New Castle Man Represents State In Big Trial At Erie

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., March 15—Picture a wellbuilt man of average height, neatly dressed, with brown wavy hair, calm eyes fringed by a big boyish grin and a soft-spoken voice.

Then you'll have a picture of John D. Ray, assistant United States district attorney who prosecutes the 11 defendants involved in the Bradford bank case which opens today in the Erie federal court.

Ray was born at New Castle where he received his early education. He later moved to Beaver Falls where he resides at present with his family. His parents, brothers, and sisters still live in New Castle.

He practiced law for about eight years at Beaver Falls and then was assigned to United States district attorney Charles F. Uhl's staff in May, 1934, succeeding James F. Marsh, who resigned.

His biggest case to date, excluding the Bradford case, was the prosecution of a huge stock swindle case in Pittsburgh court. It was the first test of a recently enacted securities exchange commissiaon law. He won. One defendant, Robert D. Vaughan pleaded guilty, and two others, W. Homer Porter and Melvin S. Patterson, were convicted as indicted.

The other outstanding cases involved liquor rings. He convicted nine out of nine defendants in one case and 31 out of 39 in the second.

SHE was "notorious" for her sick headaches. Finally a friend said, "Why don't you give NRs a trial?" With Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) she noted a thorough cleansing of poisonous wastes—a complete natural action that she hadn't experienced for ages. Yet so gentle and refreshing. Try NRs yourself. They are so fine for constipation, so useful in warding off colds, so-called "bilious spells" and other conditions caused by faulty elimination. Only 25c for box of 25 at any drugstore.

Keystones Lose At Boardman, O.

Are Defeated By Hubbard Criquet Club 29 To 25 In Tourney Semi-Final

BUS REIBER IS PICKED ALL-STAR

The Keystone A. C. basketball team after staging a gallant fight through the first two rounds of the Boardman, Ohio floor tourney were defeated Saturday night by the famous Criquet Club of Hubbard, Ohio 29 to 25 in a sizzling hot engagement.

The Keys led at the half 14 to 10, but found the pace too tough in the closing periods.

Reiber Is Honored

One distinction came to the Keystones by having one of their stars picked by the tourney committee as being one of the outstanding players the young man is none other than Lester "Bus" Reiber, former New Castle High star performer. Reiber received a fine medal for being picked All-Star.

The playing of Paul Morrison and Teplica with 16 of the points between them and Vic Nocera with seven points, featured the Keystone A. C. attack. Coach Benditto used seven men in the game in an effort to win.

For the Criquet club the work of Smith and Cellase was the best. This pair getting eight points apiece.

College Stars

The Criquet Club after defeating the Keys went ahead to win the tourney by handing the fast Youngstown Sheet and Tube team a lacing. The Sheet and Tube team had Ray Sweeney, former Westminster star in the lineup. The Criquet Club had "Bud" Laycock, former Grove City College Star in the lineup.

Titans End Season By Beating Geneva

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., March 15—The Westminster Titans put the finishing touches on their 1936-37 season by beating their long-time rivals, the Geneva Covenanters, on their own Beaver Falls floor 36-26 in a game that was an easy coast for Westminster in the last five minutes of play. By winning the game, the Titans hold a 13 won and 7 lost record for the season.

Varsity guard, John Krivosh, came out of the game as high point man for the Titans, closely followed by Andy Demo with 10 counters on three goals and 4 charity tosses. Fred Millanovich, lanky Covenanter took high point honors for Geneva with 14 points.

The game was rough and hard-fought Ken Grubb for the Titans and Penebaker for the Covenanters left the game on fouls, Grubb in the first half. Geneva was off to a strong lead, registering five points before the Titans got under way. Three times in the first half the score was tied and once in the second frame; but after breaking a 14-14 tie in the final half, the Titans pulled rapidly away to a safe lead, adding 22 points while Geneva was accounting for 12.

It was the second win of the season over Geneva. The first game, 42-40, at New Wilmington took an extra period, but the Titans needed only the regular 40 minutes of play to do the job in Beaver Falls.

In the first half Krivosh made seven points, Grubb two, and Backus one. In the second half, Krivosh Demo, Gilliland and Miller added 20. Miller's long shots were hitting well, and the freshman guard got eight points. All of the Titans took individualistic methods of scoring, Krivosh and Miller on long shots and Demo on one-handed tosses near the basket.

Polish Falcons Top Keystones By Score 32-31

Falcons Take Second Game Of City And County Series, Koszela-Kawa Stars

The Polish Falcons evened up the city and county championship series yesterday afternoon at the Falcon hall by defeating the Keystone A. C. in a thriller 32 to 31 before a crowd of about 500 howling fans.

The Keys won the first game a week ago 22 to 18. The third and deciding game will be played at a later date. The Falcons started out slow and were behind at the first period 11 to 9. The end of the first half it was 22 to 17.

Lead Vanishes.

The end of the third period found the Keystones out in front 31 to 21 in what looked like an impregnable lead, but the Falcs with Kawa, Koszela, Augustyn and "Gabby" Kendra pegging away at the hoops soon had the lead in their favor. Paul Morrison had a chance to tie the game up in the closing seconds, but his free throw fell short of the hoops.

Coach Marion Kolodjeski used his strongest lineup to even the count with the Keys. Coach Venditto's men looked tired and wan after playing a double header on Saturday night and after playing Thursday and Friday at Boardman. The Falcons won at Farrell Saturday night from the Polish Eagles.

The game yesterday was a clean hard fought affair characteristic of both fine clubs, the Falcons and Keystones. The game was well handled by "Cacky" Gennock.

Scoring honors in the game went to Henry Koszela, Russ Kawa and Slim Augustyn for the Falcons, and to Bullano, Nocera and Reiber for the Keystones. The field goal by "Gabby" Kendra put the Falcs in the winning column late in the fourth period.

TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, March 15.—You saw that picture of Bob Feller crawling out of bed, that picture of Bob Feller crawling into bed, that picture of Bob Feller shaving, that picture of Bob Feller autographing baseballs for New Orleans youngsters, that picture showing a batter swinging at one of Bob Feller's fast ones and missing it a mile, that picture of Bob Feller sitting on the bench, that picture of Bob Feller reading a book, that picture of Bob with his spelling professor?

We have not seen a picture of Bob Feller cutting out paper dolls, but we have a hunch that if the photographers are only given their heads and allowed to make a few pictures of Bob Feller, eventually you'll see that one, too...either that or Bob in a padded cell telling the guy next door that he's not Napoleon, because there was only one Napoleon, but that he's really William Shakespeare, traveling incog.

And, just a minute, while we're on this subject, it appears from the newsprints that some one told a photographer when he went south to be sure to get 12,000 pictures of pitchers lifting their front legs... surely that novel shot couldn't be the photographer's own idea....it's not hard to understand how a photographer would take 5,000 or 6,000 such poses, but when it goes beyond that number the public begins to understand that a pitcher really does lift one of his legs when he prepares to deliver a pitch...with the readers firmly convinced, the photographer might be expected to change each subject's pose just a rifle, maybe five or six inches this way or that, so the readers won't be getting too much of the same thing.

Another idea to which photographers have consistently clung since the days when Cap Anson started the spring training vogue 50 years ago is that snappy shot of the ball players playing leap frog...gradually the conviction has been driven into the newspaper reader's mind that ball players, filled with the fires of spring, break out spontaneously into a rash of leap frog.... when not indulging in this puerile pastime, the ambitious player goes about the training camp leaping high into the air for what seems to be wild throws...are all throws made in spring training camps as wild as all that?

Another photograph with the proper spring training camp atmosphere is Standard No. 16-X, which shows the athlete running into or coming out of the surf...this devastating daguerreotype is good, hot, sure-fire stuff every spring, and is cleverly calculated to make the readers in the colder climes scream, "The lucky stiff!"

One more stunt that you thought had run its course the year when Hans Wagner went from Louisville to Pittsburgh is the highly inventive shot made from between the catchers' legs, showing the pitcher winding up...this is the one they get on Wednesdays and Fridays... the theory is that rotogravure editors cry for it...well, maybe they do.

One of these days some 100 per cent alert cameraman is going to get a photograph of an athlete performing the spring training gesture he seems to like best of all...that would show our hero sitting in a hotel lobby, looking into space, thinking deeply about nothing.... when a photographer gets that one, it will be news.

Breezy Sport Notes Around Pennsylvania

By DICK SHANER
International News Service Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH, March 15.—This week Penn Paragraphs presents its all-star all-Pennsylvania collegiate basketball team, selected by several members of the sports staff who have been "following the teams" during the current season. Quite a number of candidates were considered by the scribblers, with the following results:

The All-Pennsylvania Team

Frank Barrett (F) Penn.
Walt Miller (F) Duquesne.
Matt Guokas (C) St. Joseph's.
Tom Hurley (G) Geneva.
Maurice "Babe" Patt (G) Carnegie Tech.

There were no alternates nor honorable mentions selected, since the writers concentrated only on the selection of one squad.

"Babe" Patt of Altoona, a guard on the all-star team, was voted the ideal man to captain the squad. Patt was also a key figure on the Plaid's football teams. He graduates this term.

And now, with the baseball's holdout season swinging intno its final phases and the field of "salary-howlers" rapidly diminishing, the Penn Paragrapher will venture out on a limb long enough to say that Paul Waner, the Pirates' outfield star and leading batter of the league, will sign his contract and check in at the San Bernardino lot ere many more days pass.

It seems that Manager Pie Traynor and President Bill Benswanger are determined to remain adamant about Paul's howling. Benswanger intimated that he would't give in when he said, "It's things like that that give the young players their chances." So if Paul intends to play any baseball this year, he'll be tucking away his fishing tackle and golf clubs and grabbing the first rattler from Sarasota, Fla., to California very shortly.

Another club leader who has suddenly taken a hard-boiled attitude toward recalcitrant players was President Gerry Nugent of the Phillies. His star first sacker, Dolph Camilli, has been negligent about checking in at the training camp. Nugent issued an ultimatum. If Dolph doesn't report immediately, he'll be docked his promised raise, Nugent declared. "I'm not going to take the rap," he said . . . I learned my lesson a few years ago. He (Dolph) had better wake up, come to his senses and start getting into shape."

Nineteen-year-old Billy Conn, who astounded sports fans last week by his easy win over ex-middleweight Champ Babe Risko, will have another tough hurdle to jump if the "stove-pipe" league's predictions come true. The stovepipers want to match Billy with the winner of the Solly Krieger-Oscar Rankins bout. The latter pair both are noted for their slugging and ability "to take it". It'll be a real test of Billy's mettle if he steps into a ring with either.

Salem Saxons Win Here, 27-21

Local Saxons are one down in the National Saxon league pennant fight, hundreds of basketball fans having watched the visitors win on Senior high floor Saturday night, by a score of 27 to 21. New Castle led in the first half but faded in the final period. The locals will go to Salem next Saturday night for the second of the three-game series. Salem girls also won from Youngstown girls in the Saxon girls game which was a preliminary.

Falcon Reserves Defeat Keystone Juniors 33 To 15

Falcons Give "Y" League Champions Sound Lacing At Falcon Floor

The Polish Falcon Reserves handed the championship Keystone A. C. Juniors a neat lacing yesterday afternoon at the Falcon hall 33 to 15. The playing of "Gabby" Kendra and Wenda was the best for the Falcons.

The first period it was even at 4-4, but at the half the Falcons led 11 to 6. The play in the third period gave the Little Falcs their victory getting 11 points to one for the Keys. In the final period the Keys picked up steam, but again were outscored 11 to 8.

For the "Y" champs the playing of Gregory Ross and Ray Kelly was the best. Sniezek played a fine game for the Falcs with six points to his credit.

The Falcon Reserves are claiming the junior championship of New Castle on the strength of their victory over the Key Juniors and their phenomenal success this year. They have lost but one or two games in a season filled with plenty of tough opponents.

Saturday night the Falcon Reserves went to Farrell and defeated the Polish Eagles Juniors 25 to 18 in a preliminary game, with M. Sniezek and "Gabby" Kendra again the stars for the Falcs.

Some Lines From Yesteryear

Mickie Farrell, who fought under the banner of Jimmie Dime of this city, was a tough one. However, he made the error of purposely leading with his chin against Mickie Rodgers in a Pittsburgh ring. At that time Mickie's punch was said to be like that of a heavyweight and Farrell was said to have a jaw of iron. When they crawled into the ring Mickie desired to test the strength of his jaw and Rodgers wanted to test his sock. When Farrell dropped his hand and poked his jaw forward Rodgers sent a right to the jaw that put Farrell away, according to reports of some of the boys who witnessed the fight about two decades ago.

After scoring four runs in the first inning, the A's won 9 to 4.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 15. Following a five-inning intra-club training camp feud, the Phillies were ordered by catcher-manager Jimmy Wilson to report for two practice drills today. Meanwhile Gerry Nugent, president of the Phils, and Dolph Camilli, the team's star first baseman, continued their feud. Camilli, the club's only holdout, is still at his home in California.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., March 15.—The second squad of the Pittsburgh Pirates rolled into training camp here today making the Buccaneer roster practically complete. Listed among the holdouts, however, unless he puts in an unexpected appearance at the last moment, is right fielder Paul Waner, who carried off National league batting honors last season. Waner was still in Florida, at last reports, playing golf with Dizzy Dean, star holdout of the St. Louis Cards.

MIAMI, Fla., March 15.—After a rest here today, the New York Giants are scheduled to move on to St. Petersburg tomorrow for an exhibition game with the Boston Bees.

Before sailing from Havana Sunday, the Giants defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 5 to 4 in a ten-inning game before 20,000 Cuban fans.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 15.—Col. Jacob Ruppert, who has arrived here for a vacation and to look over his Yankees in their training camp, declared today that he was going to have no further negotiations with his last two holdouts, Lou Gehrig and Charley Ruffing.

"I would rather take a chance on losing the pennant, than give in to their demands," Ruppert declared, and indicated that he might trade Ruffing if a deal is offered.

Gehrig has been offered $36,000 and is asking $40,000. Ruffing has been offered $15,000 and wants $16,000.

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 15.—Gillie Brack, Dodgers' outfielder, was on the sidelines today with a sprained ankle, suffered in a slide to third base during a practice game yesterday. The regulars beat a second team 10 to 3.

It is expected that the new Dodger outfield will be made up of Brack in center, Jack Winsett in left and Eddie Wilson in right.

TAMPA, Fla., March 15.—Charley Dressen's Cincinnati Reds were gradually working out the kinks today as they rounded into another week of practice Dressen was particularly pleased with the work of Frank McCormick, rookie outfielder, who filled in at third yesterday for the Reds and did a good job. McCormick aspires to the initial station.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 15.—Johnny Allen, star Cleveland Indian heaver, was expected to join the Tribe here today as the club celebrated its second victory over the New Orleans Pelicans, 11-0. Bob Feller, Tom Drake, Johnny Heving and Whitlow Wyatt threw at the Pelicans during the game. Tuesday the teams tangle again.

LAKELAND, Fla., March 15.—Mickie Cochrane of the Detroit Tigers today hoped part of the pitching problem had been solved after Paul (Dizzy) Trout, up from Indianapolis, allowed only one hit in three innings of a scrub game yesterday. Reports were received here that negotiations for Buck Newsom of Washington had been reopened but had again fallen through.

ORLANDO, Fla., March 15.—The Hogan and Chapman teams of the Washington Senators will line up again today for a seven-inning game. The Hogans defeated the Chapmans 6 to 1 in the intra-squad opener and are favorites to win with Buck Newsom and Ken Chase on the mound.

Joe Cascarella and Ed. Linke will go to the mound for the Chapmans with Cliff Bolton doing the catching.

PASADENA, Cal., March 15.—Hard drills faced the Chicago White Sox all this week in preparation for their string of pre-season exhibition games. Jimmy Dyke's charges yesterday defeated the Fox Movie company nine, 8 to 3. Dykes used 25 of his 34 players at the camp.

AVALON, Cal., March 15.—Charlie Grimm sighed with relief today after watching his star outfielder, Frank Demaree in the erstwhile holdouts' opening warmup. Grimm declared Demaree was in better condition than ever before at this time of year. He said he would probably keep the slugger in right field and shift Augie Galan to left, putting the rookie Joe Marty in center.

Cunningham To End His Career Wednesday Nite

One Of Greatest Milers Of All Time Will End Career On Indoor Tracks

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 15. — As though he had arranged it deliberately in a perfect setting, Glenn Cunningham will bid adieu to indoor foot-racing wednesday night in the Columbian mile of the K. of C. games.

The hawk-faced Kansan will make his exit from indoor competition in the event he has thoroughly dominated since 1933, and after that will settle down to a hot pursuit of the Ph. D. degree which has been his aim for several months at New York university.

Faces Fine Field.

In this, his last indoor appearance, one of the greatest milers of all time will find himself lined up against a field capable of making him press all the way. And it may be that the mile standard will fall.

In his farewell to the boards, Cunningham will be cheered by 16,000 of the addicts who have followed his career through the last four years, with the plaudits this time levelled at a departing hero who finds himself with plenty of opposition.

In the Columbian mile, to be pounded out over the boards at Madison Square Garden, other competitors will be Archie San Romani, who recently beat Cunningham at Chicago; Luigi Beccali, the Italian Olympian, and Gene Venzke, the ex-Penn stylist.

Cunningham Invincible.

Since 1933 Cunningham has been invincible in the Columbian mile. In 1934 he hung up his indoor world record of 4:08.4 in the event.

San Romani generally is given an excellent chance to dethrone Cunningham, with Beccali as a possibility and Venzke as just another entrant. In short, the Columbian looks like a tough race between Cunningham and San Romani.

The latter's chances will depend largely on Cunningham's condition. At his best, the latter set the world record in this event. At his worst, he ran a 4:46.8 mile and still remained undefeated.

Many Features.

In addition to the mile feature, other outstanding events on the K. of C. program are the Casey 600 and the two-mile run. Among the entrants for the former are Jim Herbert, local Negro ace; Eddie O'Brien of Syracuse, Charley Beethem of Ohio State, Dick Gill of Boston college and Wesley Wallace of Fordham.

Don Lash, Tommy Deckard and Jimmy Smith, all of Indiana, will dominate the two-mile run and probably finish 1-2-3.

In the field events, the big act will be the high jump, bringing on Cornelius Johnson, the Olympic champion from California; Ed Burke of Marquette, Al Threadgill of Temple, Dave Albritton and Mel Walker of Ohio State and Artie Byrnes of Manhattan.

Conn's Trounce Patt Five, 22-11

Local Ex-High Players Capture First Round Game In Pittsburgh Tourney

Playing the same brand of basketball that they played when they flaunted the colors of New Castle high, Conn's passers climbed highly in the A. A. U., floor tournament in Pittsburgh, Saturday, by upsetting a smooth functioning Patt A. C. The final score was 22-11.

The Tin City representatives grabbed a 3-2 lead as the first quarter ended. At the half, the locals sported a 12-9 margin. During the second half, Conn piled up a comfortable lead and were able to coast to victory. Nocera, one of the outstanding flingers in W. P. I. A. L. circles throughout the past season, was outstanding for the locals, sending the sphere through the nets for 5 field goals and one foul. With the exception of Nocera, the remainder of the players, are ex-high stars. Adams dropped in two field goals for Conn's.

Next Saturday, the locals will return to Pittsburgh for a second round battle, opposing the North Side St. Ann's, on the South Side Community floor.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL.

Well, well, guess what . . . yes you are right, it looks like skiing weather. Who would have thunk it . . . the 15th of March and this much snow . . . won't the people in the south give us the merry ha, ha . . . well it's time for most of them to come home so we can give them the ha, ha.

* * *

Don't be surprised if you read about yours truly being laid up . . . he expects the skiis to cross and that my friends is not very nice.

* * *

Have you heard about the results of the eastern wrestling championship that were held this weekend . . . dear old Penn State is again the winner . . . they sure know how to turn out the wrestlers . . . good old Nittany . . . I bet it's cold up there today.

* * *

Have you heard about the play, "Boy Meets Girl"? It has been on the stage for two years . . . it is a lively piece of work and it keeps you interested for the duration of the time . . . it is about two young fellows, reporters from New York, they go to Hollywood and try to write plays . . . they are rather reckless so to speak and play pranks on their producers . . . they have been kicked out of every studio in the colony . . . the one where they are working when the play starts has a manager about as bad as they are . . . he is a college graduate . . . the story goes on and the "boys" as they are called, keep getting in deeper and deeper . . . they put a baby boy only a few days old in the spot light . . . things get a little complicated, so we will stop here . . . if you get a chance see the show . . . we might add everything turns out alright . . .

Here is the whole theme . . . Boy meets girl . . . Boy looses girl . . . Boy gets girl or Girl meets boy . . . Girl losses boy . . . Girl gets boy . . . figure it out for yourself.

Stock Market Trading Slow

Prices Drift Irregularly Lower In Market Today, Bonds Also Irregular

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, March 15.—Slow trading marked the stock exchange today as the financial district awaited the "decision day" readings of the supreme court due at noon. Prices drifted irregularly lower after an improved opening.

Selling in steels and motors led the decline. U. S. Steel and Bethlehem dropping more than a point and quickly followed by Republic and Youngstown Sheet & Tube, which fell almost as much. Chrysler dropped a point and Studebaker and General Motors lost fractions.

Minor losses were prevalent in rails, rubbers, utilities and oils, while coppers were irregular. In the specialties, Coty moved into new high ground well above 9 while H. L. Green, hit by strikes in several New York stores, dropped close to 2 points at one time. Armour was bid up a large fraction in the packing section.

Bonds were irregular, grains spurted as much as 2 cents and cotton jumped $1 a bale.

Springlike colors are featured in this redingote ensemble for the Easter parade. The sage green silk crepe frock is printed in an abstract design in white, with touches of fuchsia, yellow, purple-blue and brown. The lightweight wool redingote matches the ground of the print, and is lined with the same printed silk. It is reversible. The brimmed hat of natural rough straw has a herringbone pattern.

A tarlton underskirt and muslin underbody make the proper foundation on which to stitch the crepe paper. The top hat is of silver paper and the cane, wrapped with strips of the same.
